

Mikael Smedeby

Mikael Smedeby is a lawyer and Managing Partner of Advokatfirman Lindahl, Uppsala, where he has been active since 1997, in leading positions since 2010. For several years Mikael Smedeby has been ranked as “leading” in life sciences in Sweden by Practical Law Company and he is co-chairman of the practice group life sciences in TerraLex, a global network of independent law firms.

Born: 1968

Education: Master of Laws, Uppsala University

Background: Active as a lawyer since 1994, with Advokatfirman Lindahl since 1997, member of the Swedish Bar Association since 1999. Since 2010 Mikael Smedeby has held leading positions at Advokatfirman Lindahl, as managing partner and chairman, among others. He has special experience in corporate law, mergers and acquisitions, financing and licensing, with many clients in the life sciences sector. Mikael Smedeby was a member of BioArctic’s board of directors 2014 – 17 and also has extensive experience of board work in companies outside life sciences.

Other assignments: Chairman of the Board in Hanza Holding AB, Coeli Holding AB, Salléngruppen AB. Board member of Uppsala Innovation Centre AB.

Previous assignments (past five years): Chairman of Nordea’s regional board for Uppland/Gästrikland. The board was discontinued in 2015 in connection with a major reorganization of Nordea.

Holdings: 10,000 B-shares and 1,818 call options entitling to the acquisition of 27,270 B-shares.

Not independent in relation to BioArctic, the company’s senior executives and larger shareholders as a result of Advokatfirman Lindahl’s assignment as advisors to BioArctic.